

27
JAN.

Digital Humanities Now

10:00 Welcome and introduction. Anna Dahlgren & Pelle Snickars

10:15 – 11:00 Anna Bentkowska-Kafel, King's College London

Your current research in 30–50 years time? A few thoughts on the future worth of today's digital scholarship

11:00 – 11:45 Béatrice Joyeux-Prunel, University of Geneva

Can we visualize globalization? The case of art and images

11:45 – 12:00 Break

12:00 – 12:45 Christof Schöch, Trier University

Current Challenges in Computational Literary Studies

12:45 – 15:15 Break

15:15 – 16:00 Douglas Biber, Northern Arizona University

When an uptight register lets its hair down: The historical development of grammatical complexity features in specialist academic writing.

16:00 – 16:45 Johanna Drucker, UCLA

Humanistic and Hermeneutic: Contradictions and Challenges for Digital Methods

Arranged by the research programme Digarv in cooperation with the Stockholm University Humanities Faculty research school theme Digital Humanities. digarv.se

The seminar is free of charge. However registration is required.

FREE ADMISSION ▶ Time and place: 27 January 10:00 – 16:45,

Online via Zoom: please register here

Stockholm
University